Regione Piemonte: | Concrete benefits .

The use of SitoVivo Suite has revealed the following advantages for this Local Government:

1. Local Government Image Improvement

Users visiting the website can interact with an operator of the Regione Piemonte who can provide details about the conference and the registration procedures.

The organizers of the conference can easily verify availability and inform users accordingly . This timely and efficient online service helped improve the image of the Public Organization .

2. Adoption of One-to-One Communication

The operator can reply in different languages, choosing the best one for each different user, and can give any information required. The obtained result is very similar to one-to-one face-to-face communication, with the added advantages of multimedia communications.

This is a key element for an effective relationship with the Public Organization's users .

3. Reduction of Live Customer Care costs

Each operator is able to simultaneously assist more than five users. This can help reduce the number of operators needed by the Public Organization. SitoVivo Suite also helped reducing registration management costs by simplifying the registration procedure.

4. New professional prospects (TeleWorking)

Each operator is able to assist website visitors from any personal computer: operators can therefore provide Live Customer Care from their own home, without having to physically reach the office location. SitoVivo Suite includes in fact comprehensive tools for managing Visitor Assistance service in TeleWorking mode.

Regione Piemonte | Final Report.

In essence, the image of Regione Piemonte, the organizers of the conference, and CSEA was improved by SitoVivo Live Customer Care® (one of the modules available with SitoVivo Suite®), a high-quality web tool with great functionalities.

Thanks to website real-time monitoring, , over 150 registrations were made through the registration form, and assisted by SitoVivo Live Customer Care in the month before the conference.

In other previous similar conferences, a large quantity of entries received by fax or by traditional mail was often disregarded . This created considerable inconvenience to the organizers when attempting to calculate the real number of participants for the event.

SitoVivo Live Customer Care was able to reduce this problem by providing the stable registration data needed to make the relevant logistic choices.

These excellent results were obtained mainly thanks to the accurate training operators underwent , and to the fact that information requests coincided with the filling out of online registration forms .
